From CATHERINE TURNER to All panelists and attendees: (03:14 pm)

Good morning - my apologies that I am late and my camera does not work

From Neha K.c to All panelists: (03:14 pm)

Good morning ☀️

From Meg Meiners to All panelists: (03:14 pm)

But learning has changed... so the reports could change too.

From Neha K.c to All panelists: (03:14 pm)

from Nepal

From CATHERINE TURNER to All panelists and attendees: (03:15 pm)

what a massive expectation on teachers - it isn't business as usual - I can't imagine the teacher stress!

From Ali Power to All panelists and attendees: (03:15 pm)

I agree about reports looking the same. What about the fact that there is more parental input, so it's harder to tell what is the child's work?

From Dana Watts to All panelists and attendees: (03:15 pm)

I forgot to mention that links and resources along with the video and a transcription go the Q&A and chat will be sent out after the call

From Meg Meiners to All panelists: (03:15 pm)

Maybe include parents in the reporting process....

From Lea Anne Eaton to All panelists: (03:15 pm)

Mastery learning is AMAZING! I hope that more schools move toward a mastery-approach towards assessment and learning.

Good morning from Quito, Ecuador. Adriana Hire, instructional coach for secondary teachers.

From Erin Foxmann to All panelists and attendees: (03:17 pm)

For early years including Kindergarten, the Metropolitan School of Panama reports based on a developmental continuum. We only report what the child can do each trimester. We will continue with this for virtual learning.

From Tatiana Kadzharova to All panelists: (03:17 pm)

Hello! I am Tatiana, a teacher from Lancers International School, India.

From Shakila Mohammed to All panelists: (03:17 pm)

I agree with Mr. Ali, I have the same question. I want to keep the reports same but there is definitely parental support in the submissions done. how can we overcome this?

From Dulce Gomez to All panelists: (03:17 pm)

Dulce Gomez From Maracaibo, Venezuela HELLO!

From Carla Avellan to All panelists: (03:17 pm)

Good morning. Carla from Quito, Ecuador

From Dana Watts to All panelists and attendees: (03:21 pm)

Q3: What are your thoughts or recommendations on secondary school report cards?

From JINU RENJU to All panelists: (03:22 pm)

Hi Jinu from Ambassador school, Sharjah

From Neha K.c to All panelists: (03:22 pm)

In a situation where students and teachers are recently introduced to online learning, how is assessment possible?

From Dana Watts to All panelists and attendees: (03:22 pm)

Another resource from our panel:

https://www.amazon.co.uk/Progress-Plain-Simple-Teacher-Improving/dp/0367339668/ref=sr\_1\_3?keywords=Michael+harpham&qid=1580761592&sr=8-3

From CATHERINE TURNER to All panelists and attendees: (03:22 pm)

that is similar to what we are doing in Calgary -

From Blas Pinero Martinez to All panelists: (03:23 pm)

Look at other forms of assessment as self-assessment and promote more feedback when teaching online.

From Meg Meiners to All panelists: (03:23 pm)

I love the idea of the place-holder grade!

From Andrea Blades to All panelists: (03:23 pm)

Excellent, Love the idea of a place holder grade, thank you

From CATHERINE TURNER to All panelists: (03:26 pm)

nice question

From Leanne Wright-Gray to All panelists and attendees: (03:26 pm)

I hadn't thought of it that way -- shortening the feedback loop is a great idea.

From Anna-Marie Brunskill to All panelists and attendees: (03:28 pm)

Yes! Differences in parent response are also impacting learning across our student body.

From victoria to All panelists: (03:28 pm)

thanks for sharing the links after the webinar. Otherwise it is impossible to follow.

From nadia durban to All panelists: (03:28 pm)

From Fahria Rahman Sina to All panelists: (03:29 pm)

Hello, I am Fahria Rahman Sina. Working with DPS STS School Dhaka.

From Lauren Bowers to All panelists and attendees: (03:29 pm)

Such a great idea for primary. I'm wondering how this might be possible for secondary where teachers have 80-100 students.

From Dana Watts to All panelists and attendees: (03:29 pm)

Q5: Do you have any suggestions on how to help your faculty when there is inconsistency among teachers both within and across departments?

From CATHERINE TURNER to All panelists: (03:30 pm)

great question - those inconsistencies are keeping us busy

From Audrey Peverelli to All panelists: (03:30 pm)

As an IB school, 3 way conferences are another eval/reporting tool even online

From Blas Pinero Martinez to All panelists: (03:30 pm)

It can be very misleading to rely on parents participation and even their comments on their kidds.

From Vanitha Saravanan to All panelists: (03:30 pm)

How do we focus on Low acheivers in the virtual classroom platform?

From Dana Watts to All panelists and attendees: (03:30 pm)

From Ali Power to All panelists and attendees: (03:32 pm)

I have students that have the technology, but are not responding much, yes.

From LaTrice Carter to All panelists: (03:33 pm)

Thank you!! I agree Different interpretations of the same message. More check-ins with the teachers are also great.

From Shalini Agarwalla to All panelists: (03:33 pm)

We have many students who do not submit their assessments. So how can we assess them?

From Andrea Simon to All panelists and attendees: (03:34 pm)

Can you share teacher survey?

From Dana Watts to All panelists and attendees: (03:34 pm)

Q6: What are the possible criteria for a student to receive an Incomplete for the distance learning program and what are some potential implications?

Great article on Grace is gReater than Grades

<https://shakeuplearning.com/blog/grace-is-greater-than-grades/>

From Blas Pinero Martinez to All panelists: (03:35 pm)

Great point Alba, humanize this approach because you know your students.

From Brian Lettinga to All panelists and attendees: (03:35 pm)

Our first survey to staff was 3-2-1 : 3 things that are working for you in Virtual Schooling, 2 thing we need to modify/change now, and 1 thing you can help other colleagues with at this time.....this worked to get baseline data.

From Rebecca Pohl to All panelists and attendees: (03:36 pm)

In our school, teachers who feel they don't have enough data to give a mark at the end of the year can give an incomplete, and then they'll give a grade when we come back in the fall. This is for IBDP Grade 11 students.

From Jesmin Sultana to All panelists: (03:36 pm)

When few students are continuously being absent in OnLine classes, yes difficult to assess

From Linet Dsouza to All panelists: (03:36 pm)

Hello everyone I am Linet Ambassador school sharjah

From Sheila Bremer to All panelists: (03:36 pm)

Hi... cibia from Ambassador school sharjah,UAE

From sangeeta Nag to All panelists: (03:38 pm)

i would like to discuss university responses to the situation vis a vis admissions

From Kennedy Wanambisi to All panelists: (03:38 pm)

nice conversation ....sorry my network is bad ...

From CATHERINE TURNER to All panelists: (03:38 pm)

but there is also emotional attachment and self definition of marks and how they reflect on the teachers

From Dana Watts to All panelists and attendees: (03:38 pm)

Q7: What are some ways we can authentically assess students and ensure academic honesty during online learning?

From Deanna Mydland to All panelists: (03:39 pm)

You mentioned summer school, is that being considered in international schools? With the pause in gatherings how are schools planning for family outreach next year? This seems important for relationship building and maintain.

From Dana Watts to All panelists and attendees: (03:39 pm)

This is emergency remote learning - not online learning article:

<https://www.edweek.org/ew/articles/2020/03/30/this-is-emergency-remote-teaching-not-just.html>

From Jesmin Sultana to All panelists: (03:40 pm)

From Shakila Mohammed to All panelists and attendees: (03:40 pm)

We do use Mastery Connect but there are parents who help the kids with the questions.

From Brent Brayko to All panelists and attendees: (03:41 pm)

The message about integrity is important and we need to keep saying that we trust them and it is important and that ultimately will catch up with them at some point. This can become a cat and mouse game and an arms race with students if we let it take over

From Jodi Lake to All panelists and attendees: (03:41 pm)

And this was a different perspective:

From Brent Brayko to All panelists and attendees: (03:41 pm)

The more authentic the assessment, the less we have to worry about cheating...

From ARUP MUKHOPADHYAY to All panelists: (03:42 pm)

Hello.. This is Arup Mukhopadhyay from India

From Lauren Bowers to All panelists and attendees: (03:42 pm)

@Brent - YES!

From Shakila Mohammed to All panelists and attendees: (03:42 pm)

True! Make it critical thinking questions

From Maria Inarra to All panelists and attendees: (03:42 pm)

@Brent - exactly!

From Lauren Bowers to All panelists and attendees: (03:42 pm)

Instructionally-embedded assessments that are authentic and rich with student choice is so important right now (also in brick and mortar).

From Valentina Alzueta-Coccaro to All panelists and attendees: (03:42 pm)

@Brent - Exactly!

From Dana Watts to All panelists and attendees: (03:43 pm)

Feedback has never been more important

From Diana Beabout to All panelists and attendees: (03:43 pm)

@Brent - Exactly - this really is making schools to look at what assessment really should be which also forces us to reflect on what kind of learning experiences we are providing our students.

From Dana Watts to All panelists and attendees: (03:43 pm)

Formative assessment is essential

From JOHN ROGER MAGHUYOP to All panelists and attendees: (03:43 pm)

We should always consider the special needs of each and every students we have in creating an authentic assessment. I believe, especially during the pandemic, we have to consider their context too.

From Nadia Bruce-Muller to All panelists and attendees: (03:43 pm)

Timely feedback!

From Blas Pinero Martinez to All panelists: (03:43 pm)

Yes! Defense of learning

From Lissette de Aguilar to All panelists: (03:44 pm)

@Dana - Totally agree with you.

From Laura Puente to All panelists: (03:44 pm)

Thinking outside the box!

From Adriana Hire to All panelists: (03:45 pm)

We completely adjusted assignments so our final grades will be based on portfolios and final projects. Students will have six weeks to complete these assignments during class time only. Also, teachers will not be formally evaluated, whatever that means, they will only be asked to reflect on their professional goals. Parents want us to keep students engaged so the message right now is on research skills. Teachers are encouraged to keep connecting with their students and putting emphasis on their mental well-being.

From Dana Watts to All panelists and attendees: (03:45 pm)

I added Tara's portfolio resources above and we will send them again after the call

From Dana Watts to All panelists and attendees: (03:47 pm)

Great article on this being a watershed moment by Gary Stager:

<https://medium.com/@garystager/this-is-our-moment-e2ffda534435>

From Aroma Pannu to All panelists and attendees: (03:47 pm)

Dana, are all of these resources on your wakelet?

From Me to All panelists and attendees: (03:47 pm)

We'll post after this chat

From Brian Lettinga to All panelists: (03:48 pm)

Thank you, panelists. I am wondering if there will be a similar session soon for schools to share their journey to re-opening. We are very close to a reopen scenario, and would like to find ways to connect with others. Stay Amazing!!

From Dana Watts to All panelists and attendees: (03:48 pm)

The transcript from the chat & Q&A will be available after the call as well

From Jesmin Sultana to All panelists: (03:48 pm)

Dear Dana, I am a lil confused from where shall I get the resources?

From Me to All panelists and attendees: (03:48 pm)

We will email them to all attendees

From Dineen Farley to All panelists: (03:48 pm)

Thanks for the transcript!!!

From Bruce Gilbert to All panelists: (03:48 pm)

what is that article?

From Dana Watts to All panelists and attendees: (03:48 pm)

The resources will be sent out approximately 6 hours after the call

From Shalini Agarwalla to All panelists: (03:48 pm)

Thank you so much

From Andres Prias to All panelists: (03:48 pm)

thank you

From Paola San Martini to All panelists: (03:48 pm)

They can be, yes, sometimes. But I worry about the kids that fall between the cracks. I feel overwhelmed with trying to keep up with 70 kids (all classes) online

From MANOJ KUMAR to All panelists: (03:49 pm)

Will you send us the video recording and all links shared by your team? I missed some part due to bad internet connection.

From Fritha Jameson to All panelists and attendees: (03:49 pm)

Indeed, we are also finding some students flourishing online as compared to be in a traditional setting.

From Brian Lettinga to All panelists: (03:49 pm)

feel free to pass my email along to others that you might know preparing to reopen schools.....blettinga@wbais.net

From Urmita Das to All panelists: (03:49 pm)

Thank you

From CATHERINE TURNER to All panelists: (03:49 pm)

Finding them first - that has been my task recently -

From Chipu Chitumba to All panelists: (03:49 pm)

How do we grade students who are not engaging in the lessons at all, and will we put them in the next grade in the coming school year?

From Jesmin Sultana to All panelists: (03:49 pm)

Great, thanks

From Janith Manquiquis to All panelists: (03:49 pm)

Actually, it's a mixed group, some will thrive but some are flailing, especially those without parents guiding them.

From Brent Brayko to All panelists and attendees: (03:51 pm)

It will be so important (especially at the high school level) for more end of course conferencing with students about their learning journeys this year from when in classroom and then in the virtual world. Students need to be in on the conversation and justify where they think they are when grades are determined.

From Estela Proaño to All panelists: (03:51 pm)

Can you share with us the resources from Regio Emilia your school shared with your parents, please?

From Brent Brayko to All panelists and attendees: (03:51 pm)

build that time in the last weeks of school

From Deanna Mydland to All panelists: (03:52 pm)

Reflection is so important in feedback, especially for a student to do on their own and then share with their teachers. How is that being played out in the current learning environment?

From tabi bigiter to All panelists: (03:52 pm)

will the questions and answers made available in transcript after this session?.

From Dana Watts to All panelists and attendees: (03:52 pm)

yes

From Adriana Hire to All panelists: (03:52 pm)

Makes total sense- Teachers are finding that they can connect with some students on a more personal level with online teaching.

From tabi bigiter to All panelists: (03:52 pm)

thanks

From Jesmin Sultana to All panelists: (03:53 pm)

I sometimes students are very helpful and cooperative in solving issues online..very fast Sorry,I sometimes find

From Lea Anne Eaton to All panelists: (03:54 pm)

Yes! The connections and community are so important!

From Paola San Martini to All panelists and attendees: (03:54 pm)

we have both also....we have teachers and students who have left and are in all time zones.

From CATHERINE TURNER to All panelists: (03:54 pm)

so much for that 10 minute rule where they leave if teacher isn't there- funny

From Barbara Thompson to All panelists and attendees: (03:54 pm)

Thank you, again. The discussion surrounding the importance of our knowledge of the students, as well as, our trust in them, spotlights their value pertaining to assessments.

From Mwatela Chembe to All panelists: (03:55 pm)

Thank you so much it has been amazing..

From Linda Morrison to All panelists: (03:55 pm)

Thank you so much. I have another meeting

From Binti Gongga to All panelists: (03:55 pm)

Thank you for such a detailed webinar

From Philip Elliott to All panelists: (03:55 pm)

Learning through play....has anyone used co-operative computer games as a learning vehicle.I once supervised a dissertation using one

From Tinku Yadav to All panelists and attendees: (03:56 pm)

I've seen a few children respond very well to the virtual learning process. It is really encouraging!

From JOHN ROGER MAGHUYOP to All panelists and attendees: (03:56 pm)

Right. And parents has a clear role and responsibility as well in this "new normal" kind of learning process for our students

From Lauren Bowers to All panelists and attendees: (03:56 pm)

Adding in extra comments and assigning tasks for students who need extra scaffolding within the daily "chunks" has been helpful for these students. They can resolve the comments to notify you that they've tackled that scaffold of the task.

From Liliana Gomez to All panelists: (03:56 pm)

Is there any way we could have the teachers sharing assessment online among our schools? Would ISS help us to achieve this?

From Augusta Lacayo to All panelists: (03:56 pm)

Thank you for a great webinar! I am off to another virtual meeting!

From Lucy Alexander to All panelists: (03:56 pm)

THANK YOU!

From Nicola Pereira to All panelists: (03:56 pm)

I am really impressed with how our students trouble shoot and solve problems for themselves. Very exciting.

From Aroma Pannu to All panelists and attendees: (03:57 pm)

Thank you for hosting and putting this opportunity to listen and participate.

From Carlos Alvarez-Santos to All panelists and attendees: (03:57 pm)

Thanks everyone!!!

From Anna-Marie Brunskill to All panelists and attendees: (03:57 pm)

This webinar has been ENORMOUSLY supportive and thought-provoking. Thank you so much, from the International School of Havana!

From Liliana Gomez to All panelists: (03:58 pm)
Thank you for this webinar.
From Cyndi Bryan to All panelists: (03:58 pm)
This is so great. This is my 2nd webinar. I am a teacher in the US. I don't get much PD. No funding. I applaud you for giving me this rich, engaging and professional FREE opportunity. I urge you to continue in post Covid times. We third world US schools (!) rely on you. Please share your talents with us. We cannot afford this and need it so desperately.
